Hi! My name's Pablo and this is a photo of my house. It's in Guadix in Spain. I live there with my grandmother, my brother and sister, my parents and our cat.

The outside of my house is white and it looks small. When our friends come to visit, it's bigger than they think. The kitchen, the living room and a bathroom are downstairs. There are three bedrooms and another bathroom upstairs. I share my room with my brother and sister. It's a big room with a small window.

We've got a television in the living room and we've got a computer in our room. My parents like watching films and my brother and I like playing video games.

Many people in Guadix live in cave houses. They're great because they are never very cold or very hot.
